

U.S. Marines Using Divining Rods to Find North Vietnamese Tunnels

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Marine planted a steel helmet on his head, threw a flask vest over his shoulders and stepped out across the red clay slope of the company perimeter, his hands grasping two thin brass rods in front of him parallel to the ground.

In this most sophisticated of all wars the divining rod, regarded by many as a worthless gadget, has entered the inventory of the embattled Marines at Khe Sanh combat base. None of his buddies in the nearby bunkers tittered as Lance Cpl. D.E. Ingris, 30, of Bonne Terre, Mo., followed his brass rods up and down the slopes. He was looking for the telltale twist of the rods that might indicate a tunnel.

The possibility that the North Vietnamese Communists who surround Khe Sanh in the thousands might be tunneling under this two-square mile plateau has been a constant worry. The surface enemy trenches are now within 50 yards of the perimeter in some places.

Late last week the worst fears of the Marines were realized. An enemy rocket slashed into the wire at the northwest perimeter of Khe Sanh, opening a tunnel, newly dug, six feet below the surface. Now every possible device is being used to locate more enemy digging. The divining rod is the latest.

"No matter how stupid any thing is, and I don't say the brass rods are stupid, we use it," said the base commander, Col. David E. Lownds, of Plantation, Fla.

"If some country boy from the Kentucky hills says he has a gadget that he used to hunt foxes with, and wants to try to find tunnels, I say go ahead. I try everything."

Lownds has read his military history and is aware that the Communist Viet Minh dug under a French stronghold in the battle of Dien Bien Phu and blew it up in the final stages of their attack in 1954.

The commander of the sector where the Khe Sanh underground tunnel was found, Lt. Marshall R. "Skip" Wells, 24, of St. Louis, Mo., commented, "I never took the tunnel threat seriously before. We are well equipped to handle the communists in a frontal assault, head-on. But these tunnels—they could blow up the wire from underneath, knock out the air strip, infiltrate men. They worry us."

The tunnel uncovered by the rocket was 18 inches wide, and too small for a Marine to crawl through and investigate. It ran under the perimeter wire and toward the small road that splits the Marine trenchline—"a logical place if they wanted to burrow under us to get to the air strip 50 feet away," Wells said.

The Marines pumped tear gas into the tunnel's opening and threaded barbed wire into it.

A dozen sets of divining rods are being distributed among the Marines at Khe Sanh. Lt. Wells said that a shipment had been sent to Khe Sanh from the United States where Marine engineers are experimenting with them. They are supplementing an array of tunnel-finding equipment that includes stethoscopes to pick up the sound of digging, and engineering stakes to penetrate the earth.

Locating the Communist tunnels is difficult because of the constant pounding that Khe Sanh gets. Scores of rounds of artillery and mortar fire crash into the base every day, knocking out the sensitive seismographic equipment that could normally be used to indicate where the tunnels were dug.

Shafer Slates $27.9 Million For Teacher Salary Hikes

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer will submit to the legislature Monday a $27.9 million supplement budget for teacher salary increases, administration officials reported Sunday.

The announcement came as thousands of teachers — members of the Pennsylvania State Education Association — planned to demonstrate on the capitol steps for more pay.

PSEA Plans Massive Rally On Capitol Steps Monday

HARRISBURG (AP) — Thousands of Pennsylvania's teachers, ready to stop talking and start doing something about their money demands, arrive Monday for a massive demonstration on the Capitol steps.

The sponsoring Pennsylvania State Education Association (PSEA) has billed the rally as one of the largest Harrisburg demonstrations in history.

The association said it hopes to assemble some 20,000 of its 82,000 members to protest legislative inaction on two bills to increase starting teacher salaries and school subsidies.

Meanwhile, Gov. Shafer's aides said Sunday the governor would submit a supplement budget to the legislature Monday containing $27.9 million for teacher raises. The funds would come from money authorized in previous years but still unspent, or money that was not scheduled to be spent until after June 30, 1969.

Pitt. Schools Schedule Half Teaching Sessions

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The city's public schools scheduled half teaching sessions in all junior and senior high schools Sunday night to break a teachers' strike.

Officials also said police protection will be beefed up, presumably to prevent rowdiness and vandalism that marked the start of the strike last week.

Beginning Tuesday junior and senior high pupils will go to school only a half day. Generally, older pupils will report in the morning, and the younger ones will report in the afternoon.

Officials said instruction will be cut to academic necessities, temporarily discontinuing such courses as home economics, industrial arts and music.

No junior and senior high schools will operate Monday, but all elementary schools will continue to operate Monday.

Claire H. Cogan, associate superintendent of secondary schools, said:

"The disruptive atmosphere that surrounded many of our high schools last Thursday because of reduced staff will be eliminated on Tuesday under the new schedule."

"To further insure an orderly school day, police protection has been arranged especially to prevent interruption in the schools by unauthorized visitors."

Representatives of both sides in the dispute met for 90 minutes Sunday, and later reported they made no progress.

Emerging from the conference, Maxine L. Aaron, school board president, said, "I think all we decided is that we are maintaining our separate positions."

Albert Fondy, president of the 1,000-member striking Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, said, there was no change in any positions and added, "The resolve of the teachers has been tested further."

No further meetings were scheduled.

It appeared the next move would be mass picketing by striking teachers Monday at the Board of Education offices in Oakland.

Fondy said it will be "the biggest picket line in the history of Pittsburgh."

American Unit Gets Worst Mauling In War Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — A 200-man Communist force killed 48 American soldiers and wounded 28 in an ambush along a key highway nine miles north of Saigon, the U.S. command reported Sunday. The attack underscored the still-remaining enemy strength in the capital area.

The command said most of the U.S. casualties came in the first eight minutes of a withering machine-gun assault from well prepared positions.

Russians Launch Zond 4, May Make 1st Moon Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — A new unmanned Soviet Sputnik, Zond 4, rocketed out into space Sunday amid hints it may make history's first attempt to orbit the moon and return to earth.

Without specifying its mission, an official announcement said the space ship was launched Saturday—first into a "parking orbit" around the earth, then into a new flight path heading for "outlying regions of near-earth space."

The phrase "near-earth space" has been used in past announcements to mean the region of the moon.

The last previous mission in the Soviet Union's Zond—probe—series, Zond 3, took pictures of the far side of moon in August 1968 on its way into orbit around the sun.

Sunday's brief announcement described the new probe as an "automatic station" and said its mission is "to study outlying regions of near-earth space and improve new systems and units aboard the station."

It did not say what the "new systems and units" were.

The announcement said Zond 4's flight path is "close to the calculated one" — a standard phrase indicating it is basically on course.

The announcement did not give the size or weight of the new craft, nor other information on its mission.

A reference to Zond 4's being put on a flight path "from the parking orbit of an artificial satellite" suggested powerful rockets were used, and that part of the original craft remained behind, possibly still orbiting earth.

Rumored African Gold Switch Gives Money Market Jitters

LONDON (AP) — Rumors that South Africa will switch its gold sales from London to Paris threatened Sunday to put new strains on Europe's already jittery money markets, increasing prospects of a continued gold buying rush this week.

Behind the nervousness was the fear that an extended gold rush could imperil the value of paper money, including the U.S. dollar and the British pound.

Demand for gold last week was the heaviest since the buying wave that followed devaluation of the pound last November.

By the weekend financial experts here were predicting that the gold rush will continue Monday when foreign exchange markets reopen. Then the fresh rumor emerged from South Africa, likely to increase speculative fever in gold.

Attention was focused on Johannesburg, where a newspaper report said the South African government is seriously considering switching gold sales to Paris.

South Africa produces nearly 75 per cent of the Western world's gold. A shift of South African gold sales to Paris, at the very least, would put a severe strain on world gold markets. It could also help lead to a higher world price for gold, in effect devaluing the U.S. dollar and other currencies.

First reaction here and in other capitals was to discount the South African report. Spokesmen for the Bank of England and the British Treasury said they had no information to justify it.

Elsewhere, experts discounted such a move because of Britain's long experience in handling South African gold sales unlikely to be matched by the new Paris exchange.

But in a volatile field as gold speculation, rumors, whether discounted or not, are sometimes enough to send the market spinning.

Strains from such a South African action would be felt first here, The London gold pool, if it were to continue, would be forced to look elsewhere for gold needed to meet demand here.

London would be expected to look to the United States and place a heavier direct reliance on the already strained American gold reserves at Fort Knox.

A number of other factors already have led to the continuing drain on the gold supply at Fort Knox.

The gold rush in Europe now is based on the belief that sooner or later Washington will be forced to stem the outflow of gold.

It could declare an embargo, a move likely to increase unofficial sales of gold at prices above what the United States is committed to pay, $35 a fine ounce.

Tanker Breaks in Two, Spills Oil on Beaches
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — A tanker broke in two at the mouth of busy San Juan harbor Sunday and spilled her load of oil into the harbor and onto nearby beaches.

Oil washed onto resort beaches. "I don't think anybody will be swimming tomorrow," said Carlos Santiago, assistant manager of the Caribe Hilton hotel.

The rear section of the tanker drifted aground on a bar at the west side of the harbor entrance. The front portion blocked the channel.

The ship was the 12,065-ton Ocean Eagle of Liberian registry. The Greek captain and 34-member Greek crew were taken off without injury.

The ship was carrying a cargo of nearly six million gallons of oil from Venezuela to the Caribbean Oil Refinery in San Juan.

The oil oozed onto the reserve officers' association beach Es. cambron, a public beach, and the beach in front of the Caribe Hilton.

Many more luxury hotels and beaches also were in the path of the growing mass of oil. They included the San Geronimo Hilton hotel, the Puerto Rican Sheraton hotel, the Condado Beach hotel and the La Concha hotel.

These hotels make up the heart of San Juan's tourist area, known as the Condado.

The U.S. Coast Guard said that attempts to break up part of the mass of oil with a special emulsifying chemical were "encouraging."

London Explosions Rock Embassies, Officers Club
LONDON (AP) — Explosions in two separate incidents in London damaged an American military officers' club, the West German Embassy and the Spanish Embassy Sunday.

Police said there was no immediate connection between the blasts.

Sunday is a favorite day for demonstrations in London, mainly by various left-wing groups, and sources speculated that a leftist organization could be responsible.

No injuries were reported in the blasts.

In the first, an explosive device shattered a garden door of the Spanish Embassy in London's Belgrave district just before dawn.

The blast shattered a number of windows and also blew in windows at the West German Embassy next door.

The blast outside the U.S. officers club across town occurred almost an hour later.

Police said it could be the work of one group.

The explosion at the officers club wrecked an emergency door and shattered four windows.

A U.S. Army spokesman said most of the 125 persons in the building, mainly Army officers and their families, slept through the blast.

On the continent explosions shattered windows in the Greek and Spanish embassies in The Hague and an outer wall of the Portuguese Embassy was damaged.

OBITUARIES

The Rev. Verell H. Oviatt, Who Served in Area, Is Dead

The Rev. Verell H. Oviatt, 73, 631 S. Center st., Corry, who served a number of area churches, died Saturday, March 2, 1968, at 4 p.m. in Corry Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient there for about two weeks.

Israelis Kill Arab Raiders Infiltrating Across Jordan

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli troops have killed 35 of an estimated 50 Arab raiders attempting to infiltrate across the Jordan River into the occupied west bank in the last 10 days, a Defense Ministry source said Sunday.

He did not say where or when the clashes took place but it is believed the Arabs were cut down from ambushes along the river frontier.

The informant did not mention any prisoners or Israeli casualties.

He disclosed security forces were tipped off on the raiders' movements by west bank Arab collaborators.

It was the first indication of serious infiltration across the river since King Hussein of Jordan warned sabotage groups not to use his kingdom as a springboard for their attacks after infiltration brought punishing Israeli retaliation against Jordan Feb. 15.

There have been reports here that saboteurs armed and in uniform still roam freely in Jordan.

Although at least eight incidents have been reported inside Israeli territory since Feb. 15, the army has only announced one clash near the border. A communique last Sunday said a band of five raiders was wiped out north of the Allenby Bridge.

The Defense Ministry informant said the raiders apparently were aided by Iraqi forces on the east bank of the Jordan who were also coordinating sabotage activity.

The source claimed security methods in combating the saboteurs had improved since they first began operating after the war last June.

"We have developed our methods against the saboteurs," he said. "We are sure they are not finished, but we feel we are more effective now in preventing infiltration."

Queen's Reprieve Brings Rhodesia to New Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth's dramatic Saturday night reprieve of three Rhodesian Africans from the death sentence now places in question one of rebel Salisbury's biggest selling points with its remaining Commonwealth sympathizers... loyalty to her majesty, the queen of Rhodesia.

The queen is still considered by the Ian Smith regime to be chief of state of Rhodesia. Her picture is on Rhodesia's money and its postage stamps. "God Save the Queen" remains the national anthem. Her official birthday in June is a public event.

But now the queen, on the advice of her Commonwealth minister, George Thomson, has told her "loyal Rhodesian subjects" not to hang three convicted murderers but to keep them in jail for life.

Prime Minister Smith's argument, he has stated since declaring his unilateral declaration of independence in 1965, has been with the queen's London government, not with the queen herself. But now that the queen's name is on the paper, she can be kept in her traditional nonpolitical role.

The Commonwealth office said the queen's reprieve was sent by cable to Gov. Sir Humphrey Gibbs in Salisbury. Gibbs, who was governor at the time of the declaration of independence, still represents the queen.

But Smith doesn't recognize Gibbs and Gibbs doesn't recognize Smith. Thus arises the tactical question of whether Smith will accept or refuse the cable from Gibbs. The matter may be academic, as Smith's regime is in complete control of Rhodesia and can do what it wants.

This control was recognized by the Rhodesian Appeals Court, which refused the condemned men permission to appeal to a court of last resort in London on the ground that Smith said he wouldn't accept such a court's ruling anyway.

But now that the queen's name has been drawn in, Smith must reconcile his avowed loyalty to his queen with his power to refuse her command.

Diplomatic sources in London said three options are open to Smith:

— To accept the queen's order, which would mean bowing to a decision by the government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson, with which he is in dispute;

— To reject the order, hang the Africans, and risk having his loyalty proclaimed a sham. He would also risk, in the words of the Commonwealth office, "grave personal responsibility" for the act;

— To reject the queen, and declare Rhodesia a republic.

The last option is favored by a strong section of Rhodesian whites, who want closer ties with South Africa.

The ones immediately concerned are Duly Shadbeck, James Dhlamini and Victor Mlambo, the three men named in the reprieve. They had been convicted of murder. There also are another 100 Africans under death sentence in Rhodesia.

The political casualties could be the queen's sovereignty over Rhodesia and any hope of eventual settlement of the independence issue.

Three Fatalities Listed By Police in Erie County

Three persons died in automobile accidents in Erie County over the weekend. One of them involved a Warren County man. Harriett Case, 66, 847 Newton ave., Lawrence Park and Jessie McCready, 64, 100 Washington st., North East, were killed when a car driven by Mrs. Case collided head on with an auto driven by Robert L. Palmer, 18, Columbus. The accident occurred when the car occupied by the two women skidded on Rt. 6 in Corry and crossed the center line into the path of Palmer's vehicle, police said. Palmer was treated at Corry Hospital. Deborah Mohr, 16, RD, E. Springfield, Pa., was pronounced dead on arrival at Union City Hospital following a one car accident on Rt. 6 west of Union City. A car driven by her father, Harold Sylvester Mohr, 65, skidded off the road into a culvert and struck the concrete abutment of the culvert, state police reported. The father was taken to Hamot Hospital in Erie, where, according to hospital officials, he is in fair condition after undergoing surgery for massive facial lacerations and contusions.

INSTRUCTOR OF WEEK

Maj. Lewis L. McCullough (left) formerly of Warren, an instructor pilot with the U.S. Air Force at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho, has been selected as the 10th Replacement Training Unit's instructor of the week. He entered the Air Force in 1954 and was awarded the soldier's medal for saving the life of a member of his squadron. Here he is shown pointing out the nose gear of a jet fighter to one of his student pilots. McCullough has been in pilot training since 1959.

Dozen County Mishaps Injure 7 During Weekend

Seven persons were injured in a dozen accidents on Warren County highways over the weekend. Driving too fast for the slippery conditions that prevailed was listed as a contributing factor to many of them.

John O. O'Donnell, 20, Sheffield, was thrown from his car when he lost control and the vehicle went over an embankment and overturned on Rt. 6 east of Sheffield Saturday afternoon, state police reported. He was taken to Kane Hospital and later transferred to St. Vincent's Hospital in Erie suffering from skull fractures. His condition is listed as serious.

Cars operated by Raymond E. Peterson Jr., 30, RD 1, Pleasantville, and James Edward Guntrum, 29, 515 Spruce st., Titusville, collided on Rt. 27 south of Grand Valley early Saturday. Peterson apparently fell asleep at the wheel, troopers said. Both men were taken to Titusville hospital where Peterson was treated and released and Guntrum is in satisfactory condition with internal injuries.

Ronald E. Dodds, 51, 8 New st., suffered lacerations when he drove into a parked car on Conewango ave. Saturday night, borough police said. He was admitted to Warren General Hospital and later released. He told police he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car and swerved to the right hitting a vehicle owned by Robert Johnson, 220 Quaker Hill rd.

Three persons were injured in a crash along Rt. 27 south of Grand Valley Saturday afternoon. Treated for abrasions and cuts at Warren General Hospital were Rexha Handi, 49, 1284 Conewango ave., the driver and his passengers, Mary Lou Scallie, 31 and Margaret Sue Postava, 22, both of Pittsburgh.

Robert F. Heir, 58, 11 Tan st., Sheffield, was driving west on Rt. 6 west of Warren Sunday morning when he lost control of his car. It went off the road skidded back across the pavement and struck guardrails on the opposite side of the highway, troopers said.

State police investigated a collision involving a parked car on Rt. 957 west of Sugar Grove Saturday afternoon. Lynn A.

Quiggle, 26, RD 3, Sugar Grove, in an attempt to avoid an oncoming truck hit a disabled car in the care of Bessie O. Gardner, RD 3, Sugar Grove, which was parked on the berm.

In two other accidents investigated by state police Saturday afternoon, Paul L. Brown, 35, 341 Foote ave., Jamestown, N.Y., skidded off the Page Hollow road and cars operated by Stephen Dillick, 25, RD 1, Clarendon and Curtis F. Sasser, 210 Kinzua rd., sideswiped each other on Morrison Run rd.

Two cars collided on the meandering railroad bridge on Rt. 6 west of Warren late Friday night, troopers said. The accident occurred when an eastbound vehicle operated by Robert B. Swanson, 35, 2552 Pennsylvania ve. W., struck the rear left fender of a westbound car driven by Gregory Marie Hall, 19, 315 Church st., Wattsburg.

Garland A. Haney Jr., 32, 100½ Conewango ave., Russell, was charged with reckless driving following a rear end collision Sunday morning at the intersection of Market st. and Fifth ave. Haney, driving west on fifth, ran into the rear of a car operated by Charles E. Barone, 31, 417 Poplar st., police said.

Later Sunday, borough police investigated a second rear end collision on Pennsylvania ave. near Conewango ave. William Kunselman, 57, 12 Church st., North Warren, slowed down to stop at the curb and was hit by a car driven by James J. Franke, 17, 301 Kelso Dr., Erie, they reported.

Marsha Marie Bines, 18, 31 E. Wayne st., was backing out of a parking spot at Ettinger's parking lot at Pennsylvania and Hickory Friday night and struck a parked car owned by Isabel S. Hawthorne, 13½ Glade ave., according to borough police.

Total estimated property damage in the accidents was $7,545.

Telethon Nets Over $1,600 For Hospital

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Jamestown area residents this weekend donated more than $1,600 to Children's Hospital in Buffalo, N.Y. The donations came as part of a telethon conducted by the Variety Club of Buffalo over WKBW TV. Jamestown area residents telephoned their donations and pledges to radio station WJTN where volunteers manned telephones from 10 p.m. Saturday to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The volunteers were from the Jamestown General Hospital Junior Auxiliary with staff members of the radio station serving as directors for the local effort. Last year area residents pledged more than $1,700 to the Buffalo institution.

ing served as chairman of the drive's Special Gifts Division in 1963 and again in 1964. A past president of the Jamestown Jaycees, he is presently a national director of the New York State Jaycees. He also serves as chairman of Jamestown's Industrial Development Commission and is active with the city Democratic Committee in the Sixth Ward. He was Democratic candidate for Sixth Ward councilman last fall.

The cancer crusade is scheduled to get under way April 1.

4 Teenagers Killed

LYKENS, Pa. (AP) — Four teenagers were killed Sunday when their car ran off a curve on State Rt. 147 and slammed into a tree a mile north of this Dauphin County community, state police reported.

Police identified the four as Leonard Buffington, RD 1 Hallfax, the driver; Sallie Ann Boyer, 19, of Pillow, her 13-year-old sister Nancy Lee and Vicki Howard, 17, RD 1 Millersburg, all passengers.

The victims were pronounced dead at the scene by Dauphin County Deputy Coroner Jacob Swelgart.

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (AP) — A car and a bus slammed together Sunday, killing two young girls and injuring a bus driver. The girls, Mary Ellen Grass, 19, of Whitaker and Patricia Fettsko, 19, of West Mifflin, were riding in the car on Pennsylvania 51.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

PEOPLE HAD BOILS IN BIBLICAL TIMES

They are often mentioned in the Bible. A boil's redness, swelling, local "hotness," and great tenderness as a fluid-filled core develops, gives a picture of a typical infection. Boils are usually caused by a staphylococci variety of bacteria which remains confined to the area of their entry.

It is called a boil when on the skin's surface, an abscess when it involves deep tissues. A carbuncle is a cluster of boils and a felon is a special type of boil affecting the thick tissues of the pad of a fingertip. Never squeeze a boil or a pimple. This spreads the infection. Diabetics or patients with vascular disease, hardening of arteries or Burger's disease require immediate medical attention.

Warren Soldier Is Injured In Vietnam

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Black, 368 River rd., received a Defense Department notice last Wednesday that their son, Keith, 20, had been injured in action in Vietnam.

State police from the Warren Barracks provided a measure of relief to the distressed Black family over the weekend by delivering a second telegram from the Defense Department which said Keith was in good condition and evacuation was not contemplated.

Young Black was injured in Vietnam Feb. 24. He is a 1966 graduate of Warren Area High School and volunteered for the draft in September 1966. He arrived in Vietnam in October of last year and was attached to the 198th Brigade.

Girl Killed

UNION CITY, Pa. (AP) — An auto swerved off a highway and hit a concrete culvert Sunday, killing a girl and injuring her father.

Debra Mohr, 16, of East Springfield was dead on arrival at Union City Memorial Hospital.

Her father, Harold, 65, who was driving, was hospitalized in serious condition following the crash on Pennsylvania 6 two miles west of this Erie County community.

Stump Catches Fire

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A tree stump in the basement of Lloyd Miller's home caught fire from spontaneous combustion, firemen said. The damage Saturday, mostly from smoke, was estimated at $25.

The stump, three feet in diameter, was the remains of a tree that stood where Miller's house was built 30 years ago.

District Attorney's Pay May Be Hiked to 13,000

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)
HARRISBURG — The salary of the district attorney of sixth class counties such as Warren County would be increased from $9,450 to $13,000 under terms of legislation now in the Senate.

ANF Supervisor Is Honored At Dinner

About 100 persons gathered at the Jackson Valley Country Club Saturday night to pay tribute to Lee K. Kelley, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest who has been transferred to the Milwaukee regional office for the eastern region of the Forest Service.

A guest at the dinner was Col. Wayne S. Nichols of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Pittsburgh District, who presented Kelley with a plan of management of the Allegheny River Reservoir. The document is a cooperative agreement between the Corps of Engineers and the Forest Service delineating the operating responsibilities of each agency. Larry Stotz of Sheffield also spoke at the farewell party. Kelley was presented with gifts from his colleagues in Warren.

Replacing Kelley as local supervisor will be Ralph H. Freeman, Asheville, N.C.

The bill initially was referred to the Senate Local Government Committee and now has been re-referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee for consideration.

Another bill in the Senate pertaining to Warren County and other sixth class counties would specifically prohibit the levying of any tax collected for county purposes on any office, post, profession, trade or occupation occupied or engaged in by any person "who does not earn any income from such office, post, profession or occupation."

Under terms of a third bill, this one pending in the House of Representatives, performance bond provisions currently required of Warren County commissioners would be changed from the specification as at present of "not less than ten per centum of the bid" to a flat stipulation of "the amount of ten per centum of the bid."

As for surety requirements for the successful bidder, under the bill this would be reduced from 50 to 10 percent of the amount of the contract.

Dr. Wolfrod Will Be At Public Hearing

Dr. Jack Wolfrod, formerly affiliated with Warren State Hospital and now chief of social psychiatry at the Western Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute and Clinic in Pittsburgh, will take part in a public hearing on proposed regulations on community services for the mentally ill and retarded in Harrisburg next Monday.

The hearing, held by the Advisory Committee on Mental Health and Mental Retardation of the Department of Public Welfare, will review short term inpatient, outpatient, emergency and partial hospitalization services.

Notice of the hearing has been sent to county commissioners throughout the commonwealth as well as 1200 organizations and individuals involved in providing care for the mentally ill and retarded.

Nixon Appears To Have Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — With Michigan Gov. George Romney out of the race, Newsweek magazine reported Sunday that its delegate survey showed Richard M. Nixon with 621 delegate votes leaning toward his candidacy. This was 46 short of the 667 votes needed for nomination.

The magazine's survey had 434 delegate votes leaning toward Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and 191 toward Gov. Ronald Reagan of California. It listed 80 delegate votes as undecided.

The results were garnered from polling of state party leaders, the magazine said.

Nixon's strength represented a gain of 60 prospective delegates since Newsweek's first such count nine weeks ago.

In another poll, taken by Louis Harris for Newsweek just prior to the Romney pullout, Nixon had 64 per cent of New Hampshire's voters for the March 12 Republican primary to 19 per cent for Rockefeller, 9 per cent for Romney and the rest scattered.

Sen. Clark's Ex-Wife Weds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Noel Hall Clark, former wife of U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D.Pa., and Cuthbert Russell Train, a prominent Washington real estate broker, were married Saturday in the Georgetown home of Mrs. Frederick Thayer Merrill, sister of the bride.

Mrs. Train and Clark, both of Philadelphia, were divorced Aug. 25, 1967, after 32 years of marriage.

On Sept. 12, 1967, Clark married Iris Cole Richey, former wife of John Richey of Harrisburg, Pa.

Must Be Registered to Vote

As the years pass the issues confronting the public seem to increase at a greater momentum from the grassroots level to the national and international scene.

For this reason it becomes ever more important that the public keeps posted on the issues of today and gives stern consideration to the men and women it puts in offices, no matter what election it is.

On April 23 the state primary

election will be held. At this time the electorate will not only elect candidates to office, but will consider questions of the state constitution which could change the future of the commonwealth.

But remember, no matter how informed you are you can not cast your ballot at the polls on April 23 if you are not registered to vote. And the last day to do this is today from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Warren County Court House.

The Cost of Education

HARRISBURG -- Although Pennsylvania's school teachers, in part at least, are staging a march on Capitol Hill today to underscore their demands for higher teacher salaries, the demonstration also underscores (unintentionally perhaps) another critical point: the already tremendously high cost of education in Pennsylvania today.

Few people realize that in its simplest terms education in the Keystone State today is a billion-dollar-plus operation.

Governor Shafer in his budgetary submission for the new fiscal year starting July 1 recommended the tidy sum of $1,086,334,549 (in state funds alone) for public schools, colleges and the scholarship and loan program, plus augmentations of $58 million.

The salary increase to a $6000 minimum requested by the Pennsylvania State Education Association, representing some 82,000 teachers and sponsor of today's assault on Capitol Hill, is not included in this billion-dollar-plus education program expenditure for the new fiscal year.

By the time the cost of such a salary request is added, variously estimated to cost an additional $50 to $100 million in state funds, the billion-dollar-plus education figure goes even higher.

As matters stand now on the basis of the Governor's budgetary projection, 54.4 percent of the entire General Fund Budget will go into underwriting educational costs in the Keystone State during the coming fiscal year.

Already Pennsylvania's only broad-based tax--the 6 percent sales and use tax--is earmarked exclusively for underwriting the cost of education in the state; in fact it is known as the "Education Tax". Even this tax doesn't cover the entire educational cost. Of the $1,086,334,549 projected for public education in the coming fiscal year, the sales tax is projected to produce $899,700,000.

Expressed another way, it represents 46.3 percent of the $1,980,615,667 income expected for the state in the coming fiscal year--while 54.4 percent of the overall budgetary expenditure for Pennsylvania during the same year is slated for public education.

There are few who will argue the desirability (it might well better be said the necessity) of upping Pennsylvania's teacher pay schedule to bring them at least in line with comparable states--if quality teachers are to be held within the school system--but underwriting this additional cost is another story.

With already more than half the state budget being funneled into the admittedly critical field of education, and a broad-based sales tax with the highest rate in the nation going exclusively into the educational field as the prime underwriting agent, what remains as the answer to finding even more funds to underwrite growing costs--as exemplified by the teacher march on Harrisburg today for higher teacher pay?

The other day at a hearing by the House Basic Education Committee (one of a series held throughout the state) two educators testified that they felt still another broad-based tax is needed if Pennsylvania is to meet its spiraling educational commitments.

The broad-based tax recommended? A state income tax, not in lieu of the sales tax, but in addition to it. With two broad-based taxes on the books, that would be about the end of the road on the "major" tax front; little else remains.

(Interestingly perhaps, the state income tax was one of the proposals recommended last year by the Governor's blue ribbon tax study panel in blueprinting a suggested tax program for the Keystone State. It was ignored at the time.)

It points up the increasingly high cost of education in Pennsylvania; the teacher march on Harrisburg today serves to dramatize it in at least one respect!

Farewell to McNamara

WASHINGTON--Now that Robert S. McNamara has laid down the overwhelming burden that he carried so nobly and for so long, a farewell word is in order. The first thing to be said is very simple, indeed.

McNamara, McGeorge Bundy and Dean Rusk were the chief civilian advisers who pressed upon President Johnson the need to enter the war in Vietnam, in order to avoid disaster in Asia and in the Pacific. Contrary to common report, he does NOT regret that advice today. He is still quite firmly convinced, in fact, that it was the right advice.

A different impression has been conveyed, mainly by far-from-disinterested persons but also for a reason rooted in McNamara's complex and wholly admirable personal character. He is supposed to be an arrogant man, and when he is dealing with statistical tables, of which he is such a master, he is perhaps arrogant. But in the main, he is humble and quick to admit his own mistakes.

He has talked rather freely, in private conversations which have been repeated with additions and distortions, of the mistakes he has made during the war in Vietnam. These mistakes have had nothing to do with the need to fight the war, in order to avert a much larger disaster that might well have led to a third world war. They have instead had to do with McNamara's curious way of looking at all processes, including war, in terms of exact measurements. At the outset, in fact, he obviously thought of the war as something like a computerized chess game, in which a given number of pieces could be expected to produce a given result at the end of a given number of moves.

But since the "wars in lace ruffles" that occurred--but only sometimes occurred--in the 17th and 18th centuries, no major war has ever resembled a chess game. All have been slugging matches, in which the best way to win has always been to maximize your input, and to keep on maximizing your input, until the other side gave up.

Being a man who has spent his whole life thinking in terms of carefully calculated inputs producing exactly calculable outputs, McNamara as War Minister has been a very different man from McNamara as Defense Minister. He has been constantly unhappy, in fact, because this kind of exact calculation does not work in wars. And from time to time, he has been downright miserable because the progress of the war--as in all wars--has never been statistically measurable; and statistics are the only measurements he regards as valid.

Because of this, the war's burden for McNamara, which would have been horribly heavy in any case, for he is a deeply humane man, has been even heavier than it ought to have been. And he has indeed sometimes made mistakes, though they have been quite different in character from the mistakes in forecasting and calculation that so much worry him.

He has been dead right, of course, to resist the fierce pressures for unlimited war from people of the stripe of Gen. Curtis LeMay. He was dead right, too, and damn brave as well, to insist upon a system of graduated pressures at the beginning of the war. The political arguments for this approach were, in fact, unanswerable.

But in the light of hindsight, he was wrong not to urge the President to order callup and maybe even mobilization some time ago. He was wrong not to urge more troops for Gen. William Westmoreland, instead of scrutinizing every troop request with a statistically suspicious eye. He was wrong, in fact, not to go on the principle, which is basic, that the wider the margin, the sooner a war is always over.

With a different sort of war leader in the White House, these errors of temperamental bias would have mattered not a whit. In the larger balance sheet, moreover, their importance is marginal. The plain fact of the matter is that Robert McNamara is demonstrably the greatest public servant to enter the executive branch of the U.S. government since this republic began.

In the war years, with the reservations above-noted, he has accomplished miracles. Maybe they were almost excessive miracles; for he has managed to run a very big war, with everything on hand in time and in good condition, in such a way that the average American with no son at the front has hardly felt a war was going on. But all this has been miraculous, nonetheless.

Still more miraculous was his reform and modernization of the vast Defense Department--that overgrown, bureaucratically diseased monstrosity which appeared to be beyond reform and incapable of modernization, when he boldly undertook the terrible task. He has made a record, in truth, surpassing any other comparable record one can think of. And long after the carping of the Fulbrights is utterly forgotten, history will always remember this record of McNamara's.

SYLVIA PORTER

Air Travel Agonies

If you have ever had to use the air shuttle service between Boston, New York and Washington on a Friday or Sunday afternoon you know the pandemonium: departure delays stretching for as long as an hour or more, mobbed waiting rooms, dozens of planes lined up waiting for clearance to take off or land.

If you are a seasoned air traveler in the New England area, you surely are well aware of the high frequency of flight cancellations, endless delays, lays, in the air and on the ground, and you probably have missed important appointments and flight connections because of weather and other problems.

Or if you are a user of helicopter service from, say, downtown New York City or San Francisco to the airports of those cities, you have a list of the many flights you have missed because bad weather prevented the helicopter from flying.

As an air traveler, you also may remember nightmare times when your luggage went to one coast while you went to another, when you spent more time going to and from the airports than in the air. You probably can exchange horror stories with any of us about jammed parking lots, reservation wrangles--and the ultimate frustration of arriving at an airport with ticket in hand only to be told that there is either no record of your reservation or that the plane on which you thought you held space is full.

This is just a partial list of the varied agonies facing today's air traveler. Many, many Americans, in fact, are now finding that it is easier and quicker to drive even 100 or 200 miles, than to fly. And within the next few years, when the giant new "air buses" and "jumbo jets" will be unloading up to 500 or more passengers each, total chaos could overtake our strained airports, access roads, reservations and baggage handling facilities.

But some steps are being taken to forestall the chaos:

Stiff new penalties against airlines guilty of overbooking flights are being considered. The airlines simultaneously are beginning to crack down (via extra charges) on passengers who fail to cancel reservations they don't use ("no shows").

Pressure is mounting for simplified customs procedures which might break the logjams on international arrivals.

A new, computerized baggage handling system is being developed by the major airlines. When you arrive at the airport, you deposit your suitcase or suitcases in a small cart stationed at various convenient points. The suitcases are then automatically delivered, over a railway-like network, to your plane. When you arrive at your destination, you simply insert a stub in a machine which "finds" your cart and delivers your baggage at some point you choose in as little as three minutes.

All of the top domestic U.S. airlines are developing a new electronic reservations system for general use. The system is to be tied in with hotels, ground transportation facilities, car rentals and travel agencies as well. Possibly, the system could allow you to buy your ticket from a vending machine and check into your flight just by putting your ticket into an electronic device as you board the plane. The new system also would be able to tell you the most advantageous special air fare applicable to you.

While these new developments should help relieve the airport nightmare, and help cut the zooming costs of delays, missed appointments and long hours of waiting, none of them will really get at the heart of the problem unless we can find better, quicker, cheaper ways to get to and from the airports.

That's tomorrow's column.

JACK ANDERSON

Optimistic About Outcome

SAIGON--Although the Viet Cong have brought the war to his very doorstep, Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker has continued to send President Johnson reassuring reports on the Vietnam outcome.

In one message to LBJ the quietly able ambassador, who has been a Presidential troubleshooter all over the world, recalled his 1966 mission to the civil-war-torn Dominican Republic.

"I told you then if we sat tight, it would come out all right. Now I feel the same way about Vietnam."

Every night since the desperate Viet Cong attack on the American Embassy, Bunker has gone to sleep with the rattle of gunfire in his ears. More than once, the fighting has approached so close that he has been evacuated to a hideaway storm cellar.

He mischievously wrote his wife, the former Carol Laise, now U.S. ambassador to the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal, that the storm cellar was so cozy he would like to share it with her.

This same spirit is reflected in the reports he prepares each Wednesday for the White House. While none of the bad news is omitted, the overall view is optimistic.

Bunker has even expressed cautious confidence in South Vietnam's colorless President Nguyen Van Thieu, whom he has described to Washington as "unflappable" in a crisis. After a recent attack struck dangerously close to Thieu's home near the Tan Son Nhut airfield, Ambassador Bunker urged the South Vietnamese leader to move to a safer place. Thieu shrugged off the advice. He had stayed up all night enjoying the fireworks, he replied, while his wife had slept in the living room.

Bunker has also reported to Washington Thieu's view that the communists are now waging psychological warfare. Their objective, in Thieu's opinion, is to win the war in Washington even at the risk of losing it in Vietnam.

He cites the recent Tet offensive, for example, as a military defeat for the Viet Cong. They were driven out of the cities with heavy losses; Bunker's confidential dispatches repeat a total of 37,600 Viet Cong were killed in action.

President Thieu believes that Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the North Vietnamese hero of the war against the French, will continue to seek psychological victories even at great military sacrifice. Thieu expects the Viet Cong to continue harassing South Vietnam's cities with attacks that will be more a spectacular than effective.

He also expects Giap to hurl manpower recklessly against the Marine bastion at Khe Sanh in a desperate attempt to overrun it.

As a general himself, President Thieu has studied Giap's tactics. He pointed out to Bunker er that Giap had used precisely the same tactics in his successful campaign against the French. In battle after battle, including Dien Bien Phu, Giap sacrificed men in order to discourage Paris from continuing the war. Thieu thinks the North Vietnamese commander by this strategy now hopes to achieve the same results in Washington.

This column has glanced through some of Ambassador Bunker's private reports to the President. In sharp contrast with most of the news dispatches out of Vietnam, Bunker presents a picture of military stability and political progress.

He is even optimistic that President Thieu will adopt socio-economic reforms in time. Bunker has explained to Washington that Thieu is slowly laying the political groundwork.

The ambassador also has reported that the famous feud between President Thieu and Vice President Ky is more on the staff level than the personal. Bunker has advised them both to crack down on ambitious aides who, he claims, are stirring up trouble.

In short, the views Bunker has been submitting to Washington disagree with what most correspondents have been writing.

A 13-truck convoy, escorted by armed jeeps, rolled through the deserted streets of Saigon the other night after the 7 p.m. curfew. The heavily guarded cargo, according to labels on the packing crates, was Schlitz and Miller's beer. . . On two separate flights over Can Tho, the pilots pointed out to me some Esso storage tanks below. Fighting had raged around the Esso installation repeatedly, they said, yet the tanks miraculously had escaped damage. "The VC seem as interested in sparing the fuel as we are," remarked one pilot. . . This bears out the charge, printed in this column, that the oil companies have been paying off the Viet Cong not to attack their property. . . A U.S. intelligence officer told this column that the Catholic church was also paying protection money to the Viet Cong to spare church-owned property. . . After the curfew confines correspondents to their quarters each night, they gather on the roof garden of the Caravelle hotel for a ringside view of the war. Night after night, the skyline bursts with fireballs as bombs and artillery find their targets. From gunships in the sky, showers of red tracer bullets are poured into Viet Cong positions. Hanging overhead like stage lights are bright white flares at varying heights as they slowly descend. . . The front in this war is everywhere yet nowhere. The elusive enemy is seldom seen, yet he may strike any time anywhere. . . Correspondents are driven through Saigon with armed escorts. . . Huge signs in the air terminals begin, "In case of mortar attack, don't panic." . . . Desk officers and clerks in the rear echelons wear sidearms or keep trusty M-16s alongside their typewriters.

JIM BISHOP

He Loved Everybody

A man named Reginald G. Damerrell has written a book called "Triumph in a White Suburb" (Wm. Morrow). He used to debate in my house at high tea.

He had 30 people at Friday night services and five of them were part of a minyan. The word got out that the Jews were coming into Teaneck.

The argument was: "How can I have my maid sitting with me at the meetings?" Dr. Barnett Bookstaver begged me to have "Patience. Please don't lecture to them. Be twice as nice to them as they are to you, and all God's creatures will come together in time."

I told him God had the time; I didn't. Teaneck had an inestimable ego. The Saturday Evening Post had an article calling it a model community. The Catholics were another minority. The town voted not to send school buses to St. Anastasia School. Jews forced the real estate agents to sell property to them.

At once the word went out. The Christian exodus was on. Old Teaneck families moved to Radcliff River and Ramsey. The Jews bought. Soon, we had three synagogues. We had B'nai Brith, and Hadassah and the Sisterhood and United Jewish Appeal. Finn, the Irish butcher, sold out and his shop had a kosher sign on it.

"Patience," said Dr. Barnett Bookstaver. "These people are no more civilized than the ones who fled." Teaneck remained a snooty community. If you earned $25,000 a year and had two cars and an English Tudor house on Red Road, you were in the swim. If you earned less, you lived up near the Teaneck Armory.

The convulsions of Teaneck went on. Fortunately, it always had something new to hate. The last group were the Negroes. They edged in on the northeast, near the Englewood line. Then a couple of Negro ballplayers bought property in the center of the white district. The real estate operators pressed the panic button. Jews began to sell. More Negroes came in.

The Negroes had money, position, affluence. They had their own hate: Harlem.

Now we have a book that tells about the virtues and graces of Teaneck. "The first town in the nation to vote for integrated schools." Teaneck is gifted with a short memory.

Dr. Barnett Bookstaver had the patience. He saved himself for one great selfless act. St. Anastasia's wooden school caught fire. The old Jew was there before the fire department. He rescued the little ones and the nuns. When the job was done, he dropped dead on the sidewalk.

Stupid man. He loved everybody. . .

So I have decided to do the only honorable thing and take out an insurance policy to protect me from Montgomery Ward going out of business. You, of course, will have to pay the premium on it, as I'm taking the big risk by owning one of your appliances. But in order to save you the time and trouble of paying on the policy I will deduct the premium from my payments on the washing machine.

Unless I hear from you to the contrary, this insurance policy goes into effect immediately. As long as Montgomery Ward remains in good health, you have nothing to worry about. But if something comes up, and believe me, I'm not predicting trouble, you can rest easy in the knowledge that there will be enough money left over from your estate to take care of my washing machine.

Please understand there is nothing personal in this and I wish Montgomery Ward a long and happy life, but let's face it, all our destinies are still dependent on that "great retailer in the sky."

ART BUCHWALD

Insurance Is Good For You

WASHINGTON -- Montgomery Ward & Co. came under attack a few weeks ago for an insurance plan it had instituted for its charge account customers. The insurance automatically covers charge account bills up to $3,000 in case of the death of the person holding the account. The premiums are charged to the customer unless he specifically writes to the company and says he doesn't want it.

What annoyed many customers was that they were paying premiums on a life insurance policy they didn't ask for or know they had.

The only one who wasn't too bothered by the Montgomery Ward insurance ploy was my friend Spritzer, who loves to match wits with some of the largest corporations of this nation.

As soon as Spritzer heard that he was being charged for a life insurance policy he had neither applied for nor wanted, he wrote the powers at Montgomery Ward a letter:

Dear Sirs,

I understand you have taken out a life insurance policy just in case something happens to me before I make all the payments on my new washing machine. This is good thinking, as you never know when I'm going to pop off and you're going to be stuck with the bill. I think you're wise to worry about me particularly, since with all the aggravation my kids are giving me, I could have a heart attack any day.

But the thought occurred to me, when I heard about YOUR insurance policy, that I had no protection in case something happened to Montgomery Ward & Co.

I'm not wishing you any worse luck than you're wishing me, but through the years I notice that Montgomery Ward has had some very big ups and downs and I've started to get a little nervous about what would happen to my washing machine, if, God forbid, Montgomery Ward should have a heart attack.

I know that at the moment you're in excellent health, but as business people you must understand I have to prepare for the worst.

If something happened to you, I couldn't very well go to Sears Roebuck and say, "Hey, would you come out and fix my washing machine?" any more than you could say to my loved ones, "Sorry about Spritzer passing away, but he still owes us money on his appliances."

So I have decided to do the only honorable thing and take out an insurance policy to protect me from Montgomery Ward going out of business. You, of course, will have to pay the premium on it, as I'm taking the big risk by owning one of your appliances. But in order to save you the time and trouble of paying on the policy I will deduct the premium from my payments on the washing machine.

Unless I hear from you to the contrary, this insurance policy goes into effect immediately. As long as Montgomery Ward remains in good health, you have nothing to worry about. But if something comes up, and believe me, I'm not predicting trouble, you can rest easy in the knowledge that there will be enough money left over from your estate to take care of my washing machine.

Please understand there is nothing personal in this and I wish Montgomery Ward a long and happy life, but let's face it, all our destinies are still dependent on that "great retailer in the sky."

Sincerely yours,
Spritzer.

Sharon Man Being Held On Murder Charge

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A 20-year-old Pennsylvania is being held on murder charges and his 13-year-old girl companion is being detained in a juvenile center in the wake of a double killing at a service station.

Charles Martin, who police said was originally from Sharon, Pa., but had been living in Grand Rapids recently, was arraigned on the murder charges before a municipal judge Saturday night in the rifle slaying of two service station attendants earlier in the day.

The girl, whose name was not disclosed, was turned over to the Grand Rapids juvenile detention center.

The two were arrested by Indiana state police on the Indiana Turnpike near LaPorte, Ind., about four hours after the shooting here. Martin and the girl waived extradition and were brought back here almost immediately.

Martin told Judge Louis Simhauser he was guilty on both counts but the judge said he was not authorized to accept a plea and bound him over to the circuit court for trial. Martin was held without bail.

Joseph T. Bancevich, chief of police in Walker, the suburb where the shooting occurred, said the attendants, Gerald Gord, 59, and Jack McRoy, 18, were herded into a back room of the station and shot at point-blank range early Saturday morning.

Penelec Honors Top Salesmen For Outstanding Achievement in 1967

Four Warren people were among seventeen employees of Pennsylvania Electric Company's Northern Division to be honored recently at the company's annual Presidential Sales Award dinner in Franklin for outstanding sales achievements during 1967.

At the same time the Northern Division, serving a 15-county area, received the top sales performance award for 1967 in competition with the three other operating divisions.

Award winners from Oil City were: David R. Smith Jr., Northern Division manager; Clyde E. Silliman Jr., division sales manager; Ray C. Pinney, sales representative and Martin F. Blocher, residential sales supervisor.

Other winners from the division include Delos G. Henry, Joseph F. McAmbly, Mrs. Evelyn M. Overturf and Frank I. Seceniqua, all of Warren; Donald W. Casterline, Funkhannock; Leo E. Ennis, James F. Lenox, Charles F. Miller and Mrs. Florence B. Collins, all of Towanda; Richard J. Sands, Montrose; Gerald A. Hughes and Francis W. Morris of Sayre; and Eugene L. Warner of Bradford.

All are sales representatives except Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Overturf, who are home economists; Seceniqua, who is commercial sales supervisor; and Morris, Sayre District manager.

Siamese Twins Die

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Siamese twin girls born to Greek immigrant parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christos Teris, at Goondiwindi Feb. 18 died in a hospital here Sunday.

They were joined at the chest and medical tests showed they had some common organs. Cause of death was not announced.

RECEIVE PENELEC AWARDS

Smith accepted the Presidential Sales Award for the division, which achieved the most outstanding sales record of the utility's four divisions. The award is given each year to the division which achieved the best over-all sales results in the residential, commercial and industrial fields.

Penelec President Ralph F. Bovier told the division winners, plus 15 other award-winning employees from other parts of the utility's system, that "1967's record breaking sales year for Penelec resulted because of the capability and effort of a total group of dedicated sales people and the distinction of being winners among such a group is great indeed."

J. Franklin Smith, vice president-sales, congratulated the award winners and told them that "surpassing sales goals is the constant challenge of sales people."

Civil Service Employees Are Slated for Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission said Sunday it has sent to employee unions a schedule of proposed pay increases ranging from 3 to 9 per cent, for federal employees.

Increases promulgated by the President after the unions comment on the proposals, will take effect in July under the provisions of the Federal Salary Act of 1967.

That law provided for pay increases last October, next July, and in July 1969 to close the gap between the salaries available in the federal government and for comparable work in civilian employment.

Increases of 6 per cent for postal workers and 4.5 per cent for others took effect last October.

Next July, the act provides, the rates are to be adjusted so as to close half the remaining comparability gap.

The proposed schedule of increases is based on a 1967 salary survey by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The half-way formula prescribes the largest increases at the higher grades where the gap between federal and private pay is widest.

In grades GS-1 through GS-6 a 3 per cent raise is proposed; at GS-16 it would be almost 9 per cent. Salaries at grades GS-17 and GS-18 are limited by law to $28,000. No one covered by the act would get less than a 3 per cent raise.

The increase for postal workers in this second round is fixed by the Act at a flat 5 per cent.

Wage employees in trades, crafts and laboring occupations are not included in this adjustment, the Commission said.

Science Fair Plans Discussed

Plans for the eleventh Allegheny Mountain Science Fair were discussed at a recent meeting of the fair committee in Bradford. The group established a list of prizes to be awarded at the fair to be held April 6, in Bradford.

Participants will be drawn from winners at local science fairs in Northwestern Pennsylvania and Southwestern New York and entrants from schools not holding their own competitions.

Science students in this area interested in entering an exhibit should contact Robert H. Hedrick, 113 Yankee Bush rd.

SOCIAL Wanderings

by Marion Honhart

THE CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA is holding one of its most interesting meetings on Wednesday evening after Lenten devotions at Holy Redeemer Church As usual the meeting takes place in the social rooms of the church. The special speakers, Don Blair and his wife, Ann, will address the Catholic Daughters on the general subject of Mental Health. Mr. Blair is president of the Warren County Mental Health Association, and his wife, Ann, is assistant director of Volunteer Services at Warren State Hospital. The CD of A is particularly interested in the subject since the members have joined with women of three churches, St. Paul's Lutheran, 1st Lutheran and 1st Baptist, in a program of volunteer hostessing on Sundays at the state hospital in the different wards of the Admissions Building. The four groups of women work on different Sundays.

MINIATURES: Names omitted, quite by accident, in two recent weddings included that of Mrs. Richard Scallise, mother of the lovely bride of Joseph Tassone Jr., and those of the parents of newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. Bonavita; Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Cantabene of Webster, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonavita of Warren.

Warren Lodge IOOF No. 339 meets tomorrow evening for a 6 o'clock dinner in the IOOF Hall. Organ music will be played by David Klier. All members of the Initiatory Degree are to be present for practice. Business session at 7:30 p.m.

The WHS Class of 1943 reunion committee meets tomorrow night at 8, at the home of Mrs. Lewis (Bonnie Johnson) Jones, 128 Biddle street; all class members who want to help in any way are welcome to attend.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was driving home last night and passed a horrible automobile accident. There were several police cars with flashing lights, sirens, ambulances, and of course a huge mob of bystanders.

Please tell me, Ann Landers, what is there about a stranger's tragedy that draws throngs of people who do nothing but stand there and stare? Not a soul offers to help. All they want to do is crowd in as close to the injured and dying as possible and get their eyes full. I had an impulse to scream at the spectators, "What if it were YOUR mother or husband or child whose mangled body was being lifted out of the wreckage? Would YOU want a pack of strangers standing around as if they were watching a movie?"

What is there about bloodshed and tragedy that draws strangers? What so twists the mind that it actually enjoys viewing horrible sights? I have been searching for an answer to this question and I hope you can provide it. —HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

DEAR HART: It is a human characteristic to crave excitement, stimulation, something different from the ordinary (and often dull) pattern of daily existence. People are attracted to situations which involve destruction, disaster, conflict and agony (particularly somebody else's)—simply because it's exciting. Fascination for the morbid exists in all of us. It may be several layers beneath the civilized man, but it is there nonetheless. This explains the huge success of bull-fights, auto races, prize fights—and the crowds who gather at accidents and fires. I guess the answer to your question is that man is not quite as civilized as would like to believe.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a supermarket checker and one day I am going to write a book about the public. You wouldn't believe the things people do when they think nobody is looking. I will confine myself to one complaint which bothers me most —it's the woman who goes marketing and doesn't know how much money she has to spend. When it dawns on her that she has more items in her cart than she can pay for, she starts unloading any old place. It's not so bad when the items are canned goods or cereal, but frozen foods and steaks and dairy products do spoil. It's maddening to find four double-rib lamb chops hidden behind the detergents.

Please print this letter for the benefit of people who don't know any better. — OTHER SIDE OF THE COUNTER

DEAR OTHER SIDE: I disagree that these people don't know any better. Bad manners and a lack of consideration for someone else's property are at the bottom of this crude behavior. So here's your letter and a word from me: If you can't pay for it, girls, take it back where you got it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 17 but very mature for my age and I look older. I am in love with a wonderful man who is 33 but he is very boyish looking and acts young, too. By the way, he is my uncle. I should make it clear that he is not a blood relative, he is an uncle by marriage.

We have had many long talks and I have a feeling he is going to ask me to marry him. My friends don't think it will work. I'd like your opinion. —REAL EYELASHES

DEAR REAL: Uncles are nice, but not as husbands. When you say he is an uncle by marriage, I hope you don't mean he is a married man. In any event, the whole thing is like forget it on the grounds that he is too old for you. By the way, where are your parents?

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND ANTHONY BECKWITH

Sally Jean Martin is Bride Of Raymond Anthony Beckwith

Sally Jean Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terrence R. Martin of Star Route, Irvine, and Raymond Anthony Beckwith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Briggs of 228 Pennsylvania ave. W., were united in marriage on Saturday, February 24, in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Howard R. Faulkner, pastor, read the double ring rites in the presence of two hundred wedding guests.

Mrs. J. Preston Briggs was the organist, and soloist was Robert Dietsch.

Escorted on the arm of her father, the bride approached the altar in a gown of dark ivory faille, taffeta, fashioned in a Directoire silhouette. The molded bodice had appliques of Venetian lace daisy medallions, a bateau neckline and bracelet length sleeves. The regal train was secured by a bow at the back and scalloped of the Venetian lace daisies formed its hem. She wore pearl button wristlet gloves and a mantilla of silk illusion edged with Venetian lace daisies. She carried a two tier toprary arrangement of red rosebuds and white pompons.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Susan Artico, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Ann Allen, Miss Mary J. Phillips, both cousins of the bride, and Miss Debbie Friedreck. All were in rouge red velvet gowns with white fur trim and had circular veils secured by white fur open pill-boxes with pearls. The flower girl, Mistress Cindy Artico, niece of the bride, was dressed similarly. All carried fur muffs, the gifts of the bride, with a red rose attached.

The best man was Dennis Pratt, uncle of the groom, and ushers were Thomas Martin, brother of the bride, Donald Artico, brother-in-law of the bride, and Walter Raymond of New Jersey. Master Scott Seifert was the ringbearer.

The mother of the bride chose a turquoise knit ensemble with beige gloves and bag. The mother of the groom selected a costume of brown lace over taffeta with, matching accessories. Mrs. G. P. Martin, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Ruth Briggs, grandmother of the groom, both were present and had corsages of pink roses. A reception was held in Glade Township Fire Hall for two hundred. Decorations were carried out in red and white with white wedding bells of varied sizes. Master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pratz, and aides were Mrs. Margaret Quackenbush, Mrs. Vivian Reynolds, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Jean Swelgart, Mrs. Janet Oaks, with Miss Beth Seifert managing the guest book.

For traveling on a wedding trip through the southern states, the new Mrs. Beckwith wore a double breasted grey suit with black lizard accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith are now at home at 3126 Park road, Charlotte, North Carolina.

The bride is a graduate of Warren Area High School, class of 1963, and Jamestown Business College, 1965. She was employed at Warren Steel Company. The groom, a 1962 WAHS graduate, and 1967 graduate of The Pennsylvania State University, is employed with General Electric in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Everett Seifert, Mrs. Maynard Quackenbush, and Mrs. Merton Reynolds, aunts of the bride. The rehearsal dinner was held at the Jackson Valley Country Club, and the bridesmaids luncheon was given by Mrs. Donald Artico. Out of town guests came from Cleveland, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Erie, New Jersey, State College and Kane.

Watson PTA Honors Teacher

Watson Township Parent Teachers Association held its Founders Day meeting on Tuesday of the past week.

The program chairman, Mrs. Gordon Spencer, traced the history of the PTA back to the national founders. The names of all past presidents of the Watson unit were read and also minutes of a meeting held in 1951 when Mrs. Hugh Nelson was president. Pictures of former students were displayed.

After paying tribute to the founders and past leaders, the remainder of the evening was highlighted by the presentation of a gift to Mrs. James Marshall.

Mrs. William Shavley, president of the PTA, made the presentation with a few appropriate words of appreciation for the seventeen years of dedicated teaching Mrs. Marshall has given at the Plank Road School.

During the meeting, members voted to purchase a sliding board for the playground. Easter candy will be sold to raise money for the purchase. A donation to the scholarship fund was approved. At the conclusion of the meeting a lunch was served.

NAIL POLISH COLD CARE

Californian Sandra Lee Barner Is Bride-Elect

Forty friends and relatives attended a recent party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Barner of 106 E. 21st street, Tracy, California. The Barners were entertaining in honor of the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Lee Barner, to Theodore A. Mattingly of Modesto, Calif. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barner of Sheffield, paternal grandparents of the bride-elect.

Miss Barner, a 1967 graduate of Tracy Joint Union High School, is a freshman at San Joaquin Delta College. In high school she was active in the Pop and United Nations clubs, Yosemite Forensic League, and was also secretary for two years of the St. Bernadette's Junior Young Ladies Institute. Her maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Corelli of Modesto, Calif.

The groom-to-be is the son of Mrs. M. Ramsey of Salinas, California, and is a junior at the University of California at Davis. He is active in football, basketball, baseball and track, and is employed part-time in the landscaping business. Guests attended from Modesto, Tracy, Salinas, San Francisco, California, and Sheffield, Penna.

Preparing for A New Baby's Arrival

Dr. Rose Franzblau's answer to a Family Circle reader — mother of a 3½-year-old girl — who wanted to know when she should start telling her daughter about going to the hospital to have her baby, and prepare her for the week's separation, contained (in part) this advice: A child of three years is well aware of the changes in her mother's body. Even more, she senses the emotional ups and downs that accompany these changes. In a way, therefore, the months of your pregnancy have already prepared your daughter for what is to come.

Separation from a loved one, even if for a brief time, is the greatest threat to very young children. With their low level of frustration, they cannot stand or control the tensions that increase as the waiting period

Retired Teachers Luncheon Meeting Held at Penn Laurel

The February meeting of the Retired Teachers Association was held in the private dining room of the Penn Laurel on Thursday. A luncheon was served at 12:30 to twenty-one members, including two guests, Miss Edith Berkman was hostess.

Following the luncheon, Miss Alice Anderson conducted the business meeting and gave a report of the meeting held in Erie, regarding the auto insurance program.

Concluding the meeting, Miss Guldvere Knapp showed slides and gave a most interesting report of her trip to England, Scotland and Ireland. Included were interesting pictures of Parliament buildings; the changing of the guards; New Castle-Edinburgh Castle; Loch Lomond; Home of Sir Walter Scott; Melrose Abbey; the peat bogs in Scotland; Trinity College buildings in Dublin; the giant causeway; Galway Bay; the Killarney Lake country; Blarney Castle, and views of the countryside in all three countries.

LWV To Explore Local Human Resources At Week's Meeting

Local aspects of Human Resources will be explored at unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of the Warren area this week. The units are being held at the YWCA Tuesday evening at 8 and Thursday morning at 9:30.

In this fourth year of the League's study on development of Human Resources in the U.S., the focus will be on local administration of various federal programs in the area of education and employment. The LWV in its efforts to inform its membership, has had members observing and taking part in the various groups involved in Warren County's program.

League members have participated as members of councils and boards of the Citizens Advisory Council of the Job Corps and Office of Economic Opportunity Council. Mrs. Donald Davis, chairman for Development of Human Resources, will report on national aspects: Crisis in the cities—how to attack the problem of rising expectations and hope deferred; of the growing gap between white and black.

Also participating in the program will be Mrs. John F. Fan-aritis, head of the Advisory Committee for the local Economic Opportunity Council. Mrs. Nelson A. Johnson will give a report on the Head Start program. There will also be a report from Mrs. William D. Celslager, for the Vocational training to be offered in our schools.

All area women interested in League of Women Voters will be welcome at the Tuesday evening or Thursday morning meetings. A baby sitting service is available on Thursday morning. The discussion leader on Tuesday evening will be Mrs. David A. Smith. Mrs. James Potter will lead the Thursday morning discussion.

BIG BABIES

Q. One of my friends recently had a 10-pound baby. Was this due to the mother gaining too much weight during pregnancy?

A. There is fairly good evidence that weight gained by the mother during pregnancy has little influence on the size or weight of the baby. Women who have exceptionally large babies should have yearly checkups for diabetes. A considerable number of such women develop this disease in later life.

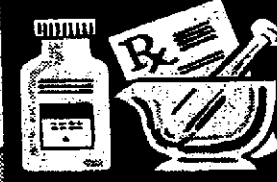

VARICOSE VEINS

Q. During my first pregnancy I had great trouble with varicose veins. If I have another child will the veins get worse?

A. Susceptible persons are likely to develop progressively larger veins with each pregnancy. Doctors often recommend elastic hose or stockings to compress the dilated, tortuous veins. If bandages are used they are usually applied from the toes to the knee for varices of the leg. If the thigh is involved, a second bandage is used so that all bulging vessels are compressed.

You win with a Gas Dryer

Just press the button for Permanent Press clothes, a new Blackstone Gas Dryer does the rest — exclusive gas fluff-up, exclusive gas cool-down cycles leave nothing to be desired, little to iron.
• automatic sensor controls dryness of load
• easy controls for special or damp-dry
Think about this time-saver, money saver.

Think about your problems in permanent-press clothing:
— do you touch up with an "iron"?
— does the crease cease with washing?
— does the Permanent-press vanish as it dries?
— does the crease come back to life wrinkled?

Come in for an IDEA EXCHANGE with Gas Company sales representative or dealer. All they want is your conversation — your idea exchange about problems with Permanent Press. They think they've got salesmanship that can't be said in print — that makes sense about clothing whether you buy their dryer or not. Let your curiosity get the better of you. College Cage Roundup: Playoffs Start Tuesday

The NCAA, college basketball's glamorous postseason tournament for the national championship, opens this week with top-ranked Houston pitted against Chicago Loyola in one of the foremost first round games.

The unbeaten Cougars, who trounced Virginia Tech 120-79 Saturday for their 27th victory as Elvin Hayes scored 51 points to become the fifth player ever to tally 1,000 or more points in one season, are pitted against Chicago Loyola at Salt Lake City Saturday night.

The tourney picture was clarified considerably during the weekend as Davidson, LaSalle, Texas Christian and Weber State gained NCAA berths.

That makes 17 in the 23-team field with the remaining six to be determined this week in the Big Ten, Big Eight, Atlantic Coast, West Coast Athletic, Ivy League and Ohio Valley Conference.

The first order of business comes Tuesday night when Columbia and Princeton meet in a playoff for the Ivy title and Murray battles East Tennessee in a similar playoff for the Ohio Valley crown.

Dayton, 17-9, and Marshall, 17-7, were named Sunday to the National Invitation Tournament in New York. There are still seven selections to be made to complete the 16-team field.

Princeton snapped Columbia's 16-game winning streak by beating the Lions 68-57 at Princeton behind John Hummer's 27 points. East Tennessee tied Murray in the OVC by downing Tennessee Tech 85-82.

Lew Alcindor scored 32 points to pace UCLA over California 115-71 as the Uclans clinched the Pacific-8 crown. It was the 11th straight for the second-ranked Bruins since Houston snapped their 47-game winning streak in January.

Davidson, led by Mike Mayo's 23 points, qualified by ripping West Virginia 87-70 in the final of the Southern Conference championship tourney at Charlotte. It was the wildcats' 12th straight and upped their over-all record to 22-4.

LaSalle moved into the NCAA with an 87-69 romp over Temple in the final of the Middle Atlantic Conference playoffs at Philadelphia.

Texas Christian gained its berth by beating Baylor 72-65 at Waco as Arkansas scored an upset road triumph over Texas 74-73. TCU, Baylor and Texas had been in a triple tie for the lead in the Southwest Conference before the games.

Weber State qualified by downing Montana State 85-80 on the road and clinching the Big Sky Conference title.

Duke's Blue Devils went three overtimes to edge the third-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels at Durham 87-86. Duke, 10th-ranked in The Associated Press poll, likely will battle the Tar Heels again Saturday in the final of the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tourney at Charlotte.

In other games involving NCAA-tourney bound teams fifth-ranked Kentucky downed Vanderbilt 85-80, seventh-ranked New Mexico, which qualified on Friday night, lost to Denver 70-68, eighth-ranked Marquette lost to Western Michigan 78-66, New Mexico State lost to Hardin Simmons 91-8 in two overtimes, Boston College beat Holy Cross 90-86, Chicago Loyola swamped Washington, St. Louis, 117-75, Bowling Green trimmed DePaul 81-69 and St. John's humbled New York U. 77-58.

Kansas State defeated Colorado 67-56 and stayed on top in the Big Eight scramble, one game ahead of Iowa State and Kansas, Iowa similarly kept one jump ahead of Ohio State in the Big Ten Race.

Iowa whipped Illinois 61-56 and Ohio State overcame Indiana 107-93.

Santa Clara retained its one-game lead over Los Angeles Loyola in the West Coast Athletic

IRWIN, WRIGHT, CARR GO TO STATES

Three District Matmen Capture Regional Titles

BY LARRY G. STEELE
Sports Editor

ALTOONA — Three District X wrestlers, including amazing Ed Wright of Oil City, won titles at the Central Northwestern Regional Wrestling Tournament held at the Jaffa Mosque on Saturday.

Wright, the sensational Oiler sophomore, captured the 133-pound title, McDowell's Rod Irwin won at 127 and Fletcher Carr of Erie East successfully defended his 180-pound crown.

One of the most well-balanced regional tournaments in years District VI led the champions parade with four winners. District IX had three, all from Clearfield, and District V accounted for two others.

Other champions who qualified for next Saturday's PIAA State finals at Penn State's Rec Hall were: Edward Matsko (95), Jenner Boswell; Dan Clark (103), Clearfield; Dave Clark (112), Clearfield; Norm Palovcsik (120), Clearfield; Steve Wisner (138), Bald Eagle Area; Don Smith (145) State College; Sam Beegle (154), Bedford; Lew Craig (165) Bald Eagle Area and Barry Williams (heavyweight) Penns Valley.

Wiser, Smith, Craig and Williams are all from District VI; Matsko and Beegle were District V winners.

Wright, who defeated the two top-seeded wrestlers to take the 133-pound crown in the Section IV meet at Oil City earlier this season, continued to pile upset on upset.

Showing a capacity crowd his never-quit style, he rallied to pin favored Gb Bressler of Curwensville in the afternoon session, then came from behind again in the finals, outlasting Tyrone's Joe Andrews, 14-7, in one of the wildest bouts of the day. It was Andrews' first loss in 19 matches and Bressler had entered the tourney with a 17-0 record.

Irwin's toughest match came against John Crain of Brookville in the semifinals, a 2-0 decision. He easily whipped Bellefonte's Rodney Musser in the finals, 7-2, for his 22nd straight victory.

Carr experienced his closest match of the season against Walter Sykes of Ridgway in the afternoon session. The Warrior star took a 4-2 decision, but was controlled by Sykes for the entire last period and was penalized for biting his Elker opponent.

In the finals, Carr wiped up the mat with highly-touted Tom Redinger of Indiana, winning 9-2. Redinger had entered the match with a 20-0 slate, including 19 pins. Carr is now 23-0. Matsko won the 95-pound title by defeating Dennis Kerstetter (23-0) of Sugar Valley, 8-4 after the latter had routed Frank Lane of Reynolds in the afternoon, 11-1.

Dan Clark, last year's 95-pound champ, had to go into overtime to trip Saegertown's Bob Braymer. With the match tied at 7-7 at the end of regulation time, Clark rode out the first extra period, then scored a reversal and takedown to Braymer's escape to win it by a 4-1 score.

After slipping past Bedford's Jim Bowser, 4-2, Dave Clark dominated Sheldon Lightner of Hollidaysburg in the finals, 8-2. Lightner had rallied to decision Ron Kightlinger of Meadville in the afternoon by a 7-3 score.

Palovcsik, Clearfield's ace at Yank Gymnasts

Meeting A-C Valley At Brookville High

Sheffield High School's basketball team starts down the PIAA, Class C playoff trail tonight, meeting Allegheny — Clarion Valley at 8 p.m. at Brookville High School.

Tickets for the contest are on sale at $BS. A-C Valley has sold over 700 ducats for the game, and tickets may not be available at the door tonight.

Led by Wayne Swanson, the Wolverines posted an 18-4 record this season and finished second in the Allegheny Mountain League, winning a berth in the District IX, Class C playoffs.

Swanson scored 528 points during the season for an even 24 point average. His career total of 1,021 points is a Warren County high school record.

Joining Swanson on the starting team will be Jeff Scalise, Rick Grubbs, Rob Hart and Mark McGuire. Scalise was the Wolverines' second high scorer with a 16.4 average and Hart hit on 14.9 per game.

Emmenton's A-C Valley finished regular season play with a 15-7 mark. All seven losses came on their home court. They lost to Union Joint on the A-C Valley floor, then whipped Union on the road for the championship in the Clarion County Southern Tier League.

Sheffield Coach Nick Creola Jr., who has coached A-C Valley, rates Rick Faust as the Falcons' top player.

If the Wolverines win tonight, they'll play Port Allegheny at Bradford High School on Thursday.

The race for the PIAA Class A basketball championship also moves into high gear this week. By Saturday, champions will have been crowned in all but two districts.

Mount Lebanon of District 7 and Cheltenham of District 1, each riding a 23-game winning streak, swing back into action Tuesday and Friday respectively.

But the Blue Devils are still three games away from the WPAL crown, while Cheltenham is waiting to find out whom it will play for the District 1 championship.

Cheltenham, which surprised West Chester last week, will meet the winner of Tuesday's semifinal between Pomeroy and defending champion Chester on Friday at Philadelphia.

District 7 — the WPAL — opens its quarterfinals Monday night with Valley facing Fair Hill and Donora meeting Penn Hills at Pittsburgh. On Tuesday, it's Mount Lebanon-Duquesne and Jeannette-Laurel Highlands.

Monday's winners play on Thursday. Tuesday's winners on Friday. The final is March 11.

District 6 opens its tournament Monday night with top-seeded Lock Haven playing Hollidaysburg and State College meeting Mount Union in a doubleheader at Tyrone. Huntington opposes Bellefonte at State College and Johnstown meets Lewistown at Hollidaysburg.

The Lock Haven-Hollidaysburg winner meets the Huntington-Bellefonte survivor and the State College-Mount Union winner draws the Johnstown-Lewistown winner. The semifinals are Thursday.

Prep Takes Third in State Meet

DUBOIS, Pa. (AP) — Bethlehem Catholic won five of 12 division crowns Saturday night and easily took the championship in the Pennsylvania Catholic high school wrestling matches.

Bethlehem piled up 82 points, nearly doubling the 45 points of second-place Kingston Central in the 17-school meet.

Erie Prep and Lancaster tied for third place with 32 points each.

The outstanding individual award went to 127-pound Louis Blatinik of Easton Notre Dame who won three matches, two by falls and one by a decision.

He won a decision over Mike Fenton of Bethlehem, two-time state Catholic champ, Fenton won the 103-pound crown in 1966 and the 120-pound crown last year.

Bethlehem, coached by Tony Fastello, won these divisions: Tom Sculley, 95 pounds; George Fidmick, 103; Chris Keating, 138; Greg Carabin, 154; and Bill Farrell, heavyweight.

Local Stable Holds Event for Students

Tackenhack Stable, Inc. held an All-English Horse Show yesterday for students who had completed the first riding course offered by the Clarendon area stable.

The event was judged by Carol Tupper of Highview Farms, Pittsford, N.Y. Competition was held in Equitation Classes, with riders judged on their ability to control their mount, in break-your-gait-and-out classes.

Grammas Buccos Defeat Virdons

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Pitchers dominated the Pittsburgh Pirates' first intrasquad game Sunday, with veteran reliever Elroy Face and rookie Bruce Dal Canton pitching two hitless innings apiece.

The team coached by Alex Grammas defeated the team coached by Bill Virdon 3-1.

Mauri Willis scored the winning run by stealing home when pitcher Steve Blass tried to pick off Chuck Hiller at second base. Hiller paced the hitters with three singles.

Bob Veale struck out three and allowed one hit, and Jim Bunning gave up an unearned run and three hits in their two-inning stints.

Centerfielder Matty Alou still hasn't shown at camp.

Winners were as follows:

EQUITATION
Walk—1, Marie Biekarck, 2, Barbara Font, 3, David Biekarck.
Walk-Trot "A"—1, Peggy August, 2, Kim Ettinger, 3, Debbie Samuelson.
Walk-Trot "B"—1, Marian Wolfe, 2, Paul Higby, 3, Mike Beige.

Bareback "A"—1, Ellen Zetterlind, 2, Marian Wolfe, 3, Jenny Gray.
Bareback "B"—1, Marlene Hellman, 2, Sandy Anderson, 3, Peggy August.

Awards were also made in a costume class. Wendy Mead and Joanne Hellman were judged "most original," the "funniest" was won by Marian Wolfe and Debbie Probst and David and Marie Biekarck and Barbara Font took the "prettiest" category.

About 90 percent of the students who completed the course offered by owners Beth and Jane Culbertson had never ridden before.

McDowell Hurt In Auto Wreck

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Cleveland Indians' pitcher Sam McDowell required a total of 10 stitches Sunday after he was involved in a two-car collision.

McDowell's wife, Carole, and their two children, Deborah, 5, and Timmy, 2, were in the auto. Mrs. McDowell had four stitches in the left knee. The children were shaken up.

The family was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where doctors used seven stitches below McDowell's left eye and three on his left temple. He also suffered abrasions of both elbows and both knees.

Indians' team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito said McDowell probably would work out Monday and is not expected to be sidelined.

The driver of the other auto was a 26-year-old coed from the University of Arizona. She was not seriously hurt.

GRIFFITH, FRAZIER SOLID FAVORITES

Double Title Boxing Card Slated at Garden Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith and Joe Frazier, the two smaller fighters, were rated solid favorites Sunday to win the title fights in the boxing spectacular in the new Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Griffith, of New York, was a rising 8-5 favorite to retain his world middleweight championship over Italy's Nino Benvenuti in the opening title 15-rounder. This was scheduled to start at 9:30 p.m. EST.

Frazier, 24, a 205-pounder from Philadelphia, held firmly as the 2-1 choice over Buster Mathis, 23, the 245-pound giant from Grand Rapids, Mich., in the clash of unbeatens for New York, Massachusetts, Maine and Illinois recognition as world heavyweight champion.

This bout will follow the middleweight contest.

A crowd of more than 16,000 was to contribute to a record indoor gate of between $600,000 and $700,000—the record is $511,000—at prices ranging from $10 to the slow-moving $100 ring-side seats for the inaugural boxing show in the 20,000-seat arena.

The Garden will pay $505,000 to the four featured fighters—$175,000 each to Griffith and Frazier, $80,000 to Benvenuti and $75,000 to Mathis—and with the heavy promotional expenses this won't produce much of a profit.

The profit will come out of the promotion's share of the closed circuit television to arenas and theaters in more than 70 cities in the United States and Canada and the television to Italy, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

Although three of the four featured fighters are Negroes collecting big money, several black militant groups said they will demonstrate and picket outside the Garden. They are protesting the deposing of Cassius Clay as world heavyweight champion.

All-Star Squad Named for Look

NEW YORK (AP)—Lew Alcindor of UCLA, Elvin Hayes of Houston, Larry Miller of North Carolina and Louisville's Westley Unseld were named for the second time to the U.S. Basketball Writers Association's 10-man college all-star team announced Sunday by Look Magazine.

Alcindor, Hayes, Merv Jackson of Utah and sophomores Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure and Pete Maravich of Louisiana State were unanimous choices of the USBWA's nine-man awards committee representing the eight NCAA districts.

Others chosen for the squad were Niagara's Calvin Murphy, Mike Warren of UCLA and Jo Jo White of Kansas.

and New York Athletic Commission stripped Clay of title recognition when he refused to enter military service. He is appealing his conviction for draft evasion.

Jerry Quarry of Bellflower, Calif., and Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., will meet for the WBA's title on April 27. The winner probably will oppose the survivor of the Frazier-Mathis fight.

Mathis, who has height (6 foot-3 to 5-11½) and reach (76 inches to 78½) advantages, is unusually nimble for his size.

He has displayed a fast, stinging jab and a swift, hurting left hook. His left could be decisive if he doesn't panic under Frazier's expected furious assaults.

Frazier, 19-0 with 17 knockouts, goes right after his opponents with the aim of scoring a knockout with every punch. He usually is wide open in so doing.

"I'm going to knock him out," said the confident Philadelphia, "I'll get him in five or six, or maybe earlier."

"I've never been knocked down or knocked out," said Mathis. "I'm going to win."

Mathis' record is 23-0, including 17 knockouts. But his opponents have been nobodies while Frazier has fought some name fighters, even if they were over the hill.

Griffith's purses for the three fights amount to about $315,000 and Benvenuti's to around $250,000.

it's the little things that make gas heat so great!

There are a lot of good cars you can get for $3400. This is two of them.

If you don't happen to need two cars, there's only one thing that you need less. One car that costs as much as two cars.

Unless you want to pay a lot of money for a lot of horsepower that you'll never use. There's only one state in the country where you can go faster than a Volkswagen—Nevada. (No speed limit—they're big gamblers out there.)

The only extra horsepower you really need is for all those power gadgets. Which you need to drive a car that size. Which has to be that size to hold all those horses.

All of which also makes the average car cost almost as much to run as two Volkswagens. Considering a VW gets as much as 27 miles to a gallon of gas.

But if you're still not sold on the idea of two bugs for the price of one beast, why not take advantage of this special introductory offer: one Volkswagen for half the price of two.

The cost, for instance.

There are a lot of great things about Gas heat. You take them for granted. Clean, circulating, whole-house heat seems as natural as . . . fresh air. But the biggest thing about Gas heat is the littleness of the cost—about one-third the cost of electric heat. Maybe the cost of heating your home with Gas doesn't seem like such a big thing to you.

That's because it isn't.

THINK OF ALL THE THINGS YOU CAN DO WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE. GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—Neither side vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠ K 6 ♥ A J 8 7 2 ♦ K Q 8 5 ♣ 6 3
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ Pass 4 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Double. A pass by you would serve as a slight inducement to partner to go on to five hearts. Since you have a near minimum with a value in the adverse suit, the double would be better strategy.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ A 9 2 ♥ A K 9 6 2 ♦ 10 6 3 ♣ K Q
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
2 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
4 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—That the partnership possesses sufficient trick taking power to produce a slam there can be little doubt. The only deterrent to making the bid is the possibility that the opposition can cash two diamond tricks. Blackwood will not be of use in this respect if partner shows up with the ace, for you will have obtained no helpful information. Bid five clubs and, if partner has second round control of diamonds, he should bid six hearts.

Q. 3—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ A K 2 ♥ A K 10 8 3 ♦ 7 5 ♣ 9 6 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ 1 ♠ 2 ♥ Pass
3 ♣ Pass 3 NT Pass
4 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Since partner has overriden your three no trump bid, he is either interested in a slam or is seeking a safer contract. In either case a suit opened by you will be served for the purpose. He will then have sufficient information upon which to base a final decision. A big demerit if you went on in no trump.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ A J 6 2 ♥ A J 10 7 3 ♦ 5 ♣ K Q 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass 1 ♦ Double 1 ♠ Double
Double Pass Pass 2 ♦ Pass 3 ♦ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Three spades. West has obviously made a bluff bid in spades. North was of the opinion he could defeat a contract of one spade, and East was willing to play such a contract, so West could not have more than two of this suit. Spades are your partnership's best trump so showing the hearts is not recommended.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ A 9 3 ♥ J 4 ♦ A J 9 8 6 ♣ A J 5
Your right-hand opponent opens the bidding with three clubs. What action do you take?

A.—Three diamonds. If you double, an awkward situation will develop if partner responds three hearts. And this hand is not strong enough to justify an overall of three no trump.

Q. 6—Neither side vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ J 10 4 3 ♥ K 10 6 2 ♦ K ♣ A K Q 8
Partner opens with one heart, what is your response?

A.—Three clubs. The big bid should be made at once, and partner permitted to carry on from there. If you respond with three hearts and partner goes to four, you will have failed to make a proper slam effort. If you bid two clubs, you will have no satisfactory call over a rebid of two hearts.

Q. 7—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 10 6 4 3 ♥ Q 10 5 ♦ 10 9 6 4 7 5
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♦ Double Pass 1 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Four hearts. You haven't very much, but partner's bidding has indicated that he can probably take close to nine tricks in his own hand. The queen of trumps is a sure winner and the doubloon club should produce a trick for him.

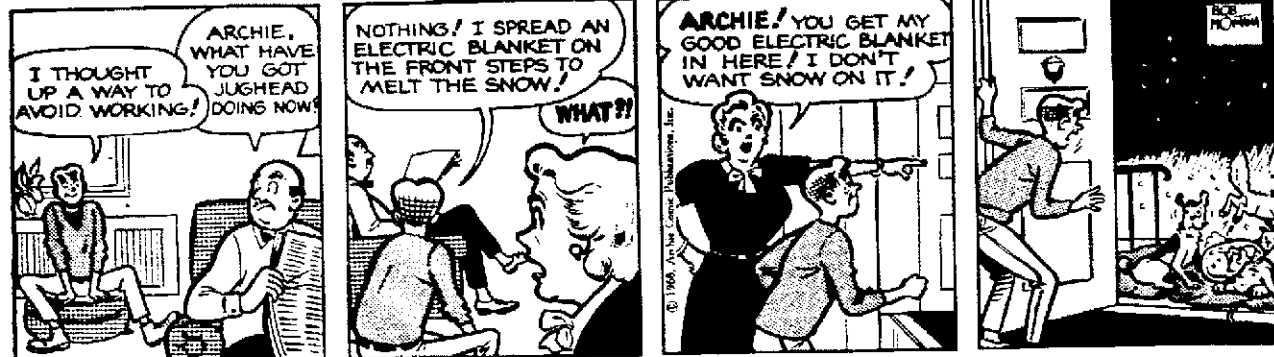

Q. 8—You are South, both vulnerable, and you hold:
♠ 10 5 ♥ 6 4 ♦ Q 6 5 3 2 ♣ J 9 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Double
Pass 2 ♦ Pass 2 ♥ Double
2 ♠ Pass Pass Double
Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—This cannot be construed as a second take-out double by partner. You have already bid. Therefore, the double is for penalties, and in this sequence is not in any way cooperative. Partner is saying, "I can beat two spades, regardless of your holding." You should pass.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR MONDAY, MARCH 4, 1968.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—There's an advantage in every disadvantage. You will be the determining factor—and a substantial winner, or needless loser now. Keep your wits about you.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Don't overplay your hand, but stay in there pitching with the best of them. The right balance and careful decisions can mean top results soon.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Logic, reasoning must be stressed now. Do not rely on hunches or someone's say-so. Seek more knowledge of your subject. Your capacity for learning is big.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Do not hesitate to ask questions. There could be some surprising answers you would otherwise not know. Evaluate carefully; take nothing as positive without due research.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Put the greatest vigor possible into all of your endeavors now. Some advantageous plans and projects could fall by the wayside without your cooperation.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Ask yourself if you are following rules, dictums wisely. After a review, you may find even one small change a big help. Co-ordination, high aspirations!

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—A highly favorable day. And there's more than one avenue by which to gain your personality, manner and approach not the least among them.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Don't cross others without ample reason. It may turn out best if you wait a bit before making decisions, give time for added factors to appear. But do not delay work that must proceed.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Strategy and common-sense will be the biggest factors in your success picture now. THINK your way through.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Some moments may be more difficult than others. But, on the whole, you should be able to smooth out the kinks and encourage better effort from others—as well as yourself.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—You need not be spectacular or showy in any way to attract or solidify gains. You may even receive more than you give. Whatever your day's schedule, maintain your sense of humor.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—There may be fewer gains today, but conversely, also fewer pitfalls. Be on the lookout for both. A good day for meetings, agreements involving future projects.

YOU BORN TODAY are of Pisces, the "discerner," the "sympathetic," the "diplomat." Don't let sympathies lead you astray, be wasted on the undeserving, who can often be deceiving. Often you of this Sign achieve so quietly that few realize the speed or distance of your reach. You are a loving (but both sensitive and critical) homemaker, a diligent worker. On the debit side: You may be extreme in ideas, too emotional. Get away from the humdrum occasionally to refresh mind and body. Birthdate of: Casimir Pulaski, Polish-born General in Amer. Rev. War; Sir Henry Raeburn, Scot. painter.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

SWOLLEN LEGS
Lymphedema leads to unsightly and uncomfortable swelling of the extremities. It is caused by obstruction of the lymph channels that carry waste matter and other material into the general circulation. When the legs are involved, edema varies from slight puffiness to the grotesque forms of elephantiasis. The type that follows pregnancy is called milk-leg.

Elephantiasis rarely is encountered in this country, but is common in the tropics where certain mosquitoes inject filarial organisms that congregate in and block the lymphatic channels.

In the United States, the more common type of lymphedema is associated with infection of or damage to the lymphatic passageways following surgery, childbirth, or injury to the extremity. Now and then, the channels are blocked by tumors or scars. Temporary swelling follows wearing a constrictive girdle or tight garters.

Lymph flow is increased by body movements and reduced by sitting in one position for a long time. This is why the legs may swell after riding for many hours in a plane, train, or bus.

The ordinary treatment for lymphedema is well established. Bed rest with the legs elevated is advisable until inflammation subsides. For several months thereafter the individual wears a supportive bandage or an elastic stocking to minimize swelling.

Trauma should be avoided to prevent the formation of leg ulcers; and, if ringworm infection occurs, it must be treated promptly. Surgery may be needed when these simple measures fail and swelling is marked. These operations are extensive and are not always successful. In this respect, they are regarded as a last resort.

TOMORROW: Armor Against Age.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

BLUE MOLES
M.F.B. writes: What can you tell me about the blue mole?

REPLY
Moles come in various colors from fawn to blue-black. They usually are considered benign as long as they do not enlarge or deepen in color. Such changes are more likely to occur in the darker moles, including the slate gray, black, and blue varieties.

THE YOUNG CARDIAC
A reader writes: Do men who sustain a heart attack in the 20s or 30s have less chance for survival than those who are over 45?

REPLY
Coronary thrombosis in a younger person means that the coronary arteries are prematurely old. Life expectancy must then be calculated on a par with men 20 or 30 years his senior.

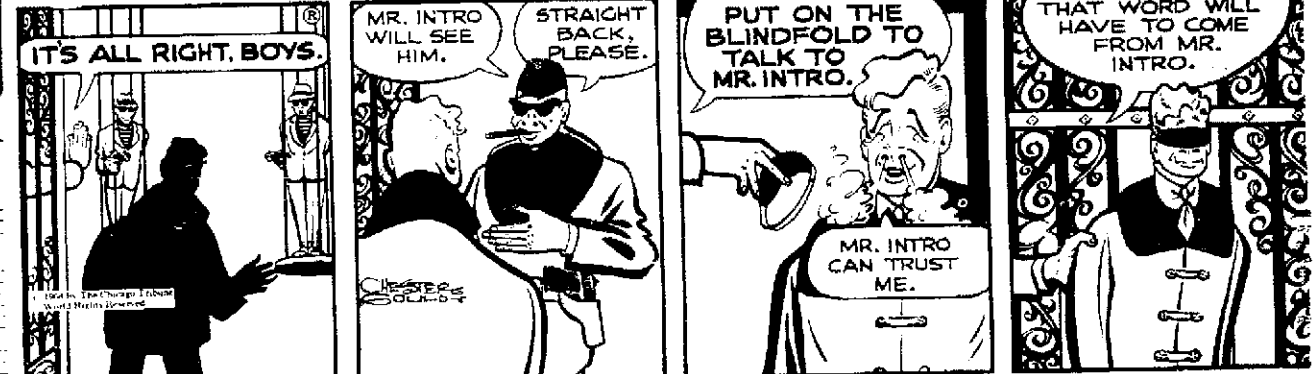

SYPHILIS CAN SMOLDER
C.C. writes: Is there such a thing as chronic syphilis?

REPLY
Yes, in some forms a positive blood test may be the only indication that the disease still existed. In other victims, the heart, brain, nerves, bones, joints and other structures are involved.

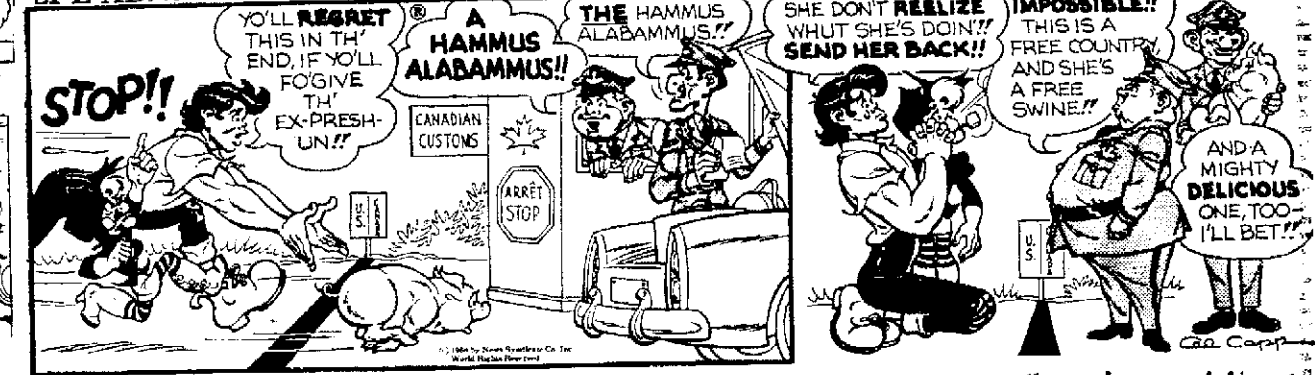

OVARIAN CYSTS
Mrs. W. writes: Does an ovarian cyst ever disappear?

REPLY
Ovarian cysts that are large enough to diagnose may become smaller but they will not disappear.

Cub Scouts Honored At Blue & Gold Banquet

The Cub Scout banquet of Pack 27, held last week in the social room of the Presbyterian Church, brought to a close the biggest weekend of scouting ever undertaken in the Tidoute area. It started just as the last of 346 Scouts from Beaver Co. were departing after cutting brownie here on Saturday as representatives of the Allegheny Trails Council.

Dinner was served buffet style after the Rev. George Campbell returned thanks. Den six won the "Cubby" doll with an attendance of 12 parents. The program included the following skits: Den 1—Chopping down the cherry tree; Den 2—I believe in the flag; Den 3—Life of Abraham Lincoln; Den 4—Valley Forge; Den 5—Signing of the Declaration of Independence. The Webelos of Den 6 and 7 gave a demonstration of catapults which they had made to earn craftsman medals.

For the flag ceremony, Gregg Morrison and Tom Nicholson were flag bearers. Pack leader Robert Schwab awarded badges and medals as follows: Wolf badges for 12 achievements to: Todd Benzle, David S. Herwood, Jay McKown, Andrew Sveda, Dave Weller, Richard Yonick, Kirk Schwab, John Weaver, Mike Craft, Danny Howe, Terry Cottman, Dennis Kelly, Donnie Morrison, Robert Reese, Wayne Rosequist and Mike Vincent. Bear badges for 12 achievements were awarded to: Jerry Williams, Mathew Cottman, Keith Raybuck, Steven Sears, Lonnie Styles, James Mechling, James Benzle, Donnie Cottman, Kerry King, Andrew McGraw and Tim Craft.

The 10 Webelos who received athletic, scientific, craftsman and engineering medals were: George Drukenbrod, Jon Speicher, Scott Schwab, Tom Nicholson, Gregg Morrison, Paul Knisley, Chris Knight, Dennis Kittingler, Edward Fike and Jon Vincent. Engineering medals went to: Curt Tipton, Jeffery Dashner and Tim Craft. Special award awards went to: Lonnie Styles one silver, one gold; Jeffery Dashner 1 gold; Donnie Coughlin one silver, one gold; Tim Craft two silver, one gold; and Kirk Schwab two silver, one gold.

The Rev. George Campbell, president of PTA, which sponsors the Pack, received a Pack Charter. To his son, Jim Campbell, who is a boy scout, was awarded a leader band to be worn on the left shoulder of his scout uniform, for aid and assistance to the cub pack and to the Den mothers and fathers. Jack Nicholson was welcomed as a new member.

Leader Schwab announced that the Sat. Feb. 24th Swim at the Warren YMCA was a huge success attended by 40 cubs and four fathers. He said that another swim is being planned for March, perhaps combined with roller skating at the Warren rink.

Attending the banquet were 37 Cub Scouts, 39 parents and four guests.

School Activities

The Junior High Honor Society is happy to report that $21.00 was collected from its dance on Thursday, February 22.

National Merit tests were completed on Tuesday, Feb. 27 by many interested juniors.

A conservation program was presented to the student body on Wednesday, Feb. 28th.

Since 1935, says the American Cancer Society, the death rate for uterine cancer has declined 50 per cent due to improvement in detection such as the Pap Test, and to unremitting educational programs for women.

Miss Pennsylvania To Be Here April 6

Doris Ann Lausch, 21, Miss Pennsylvania, will be an honored guest at the Miss Warren County pageant here April 6. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Lausch, of 630 Delp rd., Lancaster, Doris Ann also will give a talent show at the Warren County pageant, a preliminary to the Miss America competition, at the Beatty Junior High School.

DORIS ANN LAUSCH

Her appearance will be sponsored by the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. of Jamestown, N.Y. She will be greeted on her arrival in Warren by James Van Tilburg of Pepsi Cola.

It will be Doris Ann's third appearance in Warren since being chosen Miss Pennsylvania at Hershey last June. She was present for the Warren Fourth of July celebration sponsored by the Jaycees. The popular 5-foot-7 inch brunette returned to Warren on Nov. 20 for the reopening of the remodeled Warren office of the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Co.

Upon being crowned at the Pennsylvania Scholarship Pageant at the Hershey Community Center, Doris Ann began a round of official appearances that has won for her the sobriquet of the "busiest" and "most widely traveled" of the Miss Pennsylvanias. She has traveled from Ellwood City to Spring City and from Greensburg to Shippensburg in seven months of appearances averaging from three to seven a week.

As Miss Pennsylvania, Doris Ann received a $1,000 scholarship from the state's Pepsi Cola bottlers, the use of a new Oldsmobile convertible for a period of one year and other awards. As the state's representative in the Miss America pageant, Doris received another $500 scholarship.

In the Warren County pageant, Doris Ann also will show her singing ability. In the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, she sang "Love in the Home", from "Lil' Abner." For the Miss Pennsylvania pageant, she sang a medley of "Gay Nineties" tunes.

The new Miss Warren County will succeed Suzanne Johnson, 20, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, of Aptado 65, Valencia, Venezuela. When she won the title, Suzanne was a freshman at Edinboro State College.

As Miss Warren County, the new titleholder will compete in the Pennsylvania Scholarship Pageant in Hershey June 12-15. Miss Pennsylvania then competes for Miss America honors in Atlantic City the week of Sept. 1.

Doris Ann became engaged to Jere P. Long, an engineer where she works at Armstrong Cork Co. in Lancaster. They plan to be married following the 1968 Pennsylvania Scholarship Pageant.

Poll Shows Courts Too Soft on Crime

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The large majority of Americans interviewed in the latest Gallup Poll think law courts in the United States are too soft on criminals.

Moreover, the proportion who hold this belief has grown appreciably over the last three years, from 48 per cent in 1965 to 63 per cent today.

Only two per cent in the latest survey say that courts in their area deal "too harshly" with criminals, while another 19 per cent say the treatment is "about right." Sixteen per cent had "no opinion."

The survey, published Sunday, showed that although the mood of the public is for stiffer penalties, much support exists for attacking the root causes of crime in the community and in the home.

Oh, To Be Single!

SEATTLE (AP) — A scientist says that mice that live alone can survive greater doses of radiation than those in a "mouse society."

Dr. Thomas O'Farrell, researcher for Battelle-Northwest at the Hanford Atomic Works, says "the stress of interacting with other mice" apparently weakens them.
